LEADERSHIP

Leadership starts when someone decides to step into a position of responsibility.

The League was founded by women who were visionary, analytical, courageous, articulate, and collaborative—the same qualities and skills the League needs today.

If you want to build on this legacy, join the LWVUS leadership team.

“To the wrongs that need resistance,
To the rights that need assistance,
To the future in the distance,
Give yourselves.”

- Carrie Chapman Catt,
LWV Founder

MAKING DEMOCRACY WORK®

The League was founded by women who looked toward the future. With women’s suffrage on the horizon, they knew it was important to prepare for what was to come, ensuring that this was not a token victory.

The League’s goal of full engagement and participation has remained constant for 95 years. As the League grows and changes, we act to:

- Promote a membership that reflects the voices of diverse populations.
- Keep the power of democracy in the hands of the people.

Today, through the League, members lead powerful change in our communities, nation, and the world. We’re looking for members who will not only embrace this future, but will be the ones to lead us there.
